

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE between sticking to a thing until you succeed and being so pig-headed that you will not admit that you are wrong and change before it's everlastingly too late.

THE CAIRO BULLETIN.

YOU CAN'T EXPECT to make a success of running yourself on one set of rules and your clerk on another. To make men of others, you must be a man yourself.

VOLUME XXXVIII NO. 192

CAIRO, ILL., MONDAY MORNING, JULY 2, 1906.

ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

MURDER AVENGED MANY RUINED WOMEN

AMAZING DISCLOSURES OF BAND-ED BACCHANALS HEADED BY WHITE.

EFFORT TO SAVE THAW

At Cost of His Wife's Name Who Will Withhold Nothing in Her Testimony—Jerome Back to Conduct Prosecution.

New York, July 1.—Important developments in the Thaw murder case are expected this week. District Attorney Jerome has returned to New York from his fishing trip to Cape Breton and under his orders all the circumstances of the killing of White will be gone into thoroughly.

Jerome said today that as there are eighteen murder cases ahead of Thaw's trial will probably not be reached before October.

For the time being, at least, the actual issues involved in the murder committed by Thaw are submerged by the amazing disclosures that have come to light during the last few days—disclosures which deal with the unmentionable orgies of a group of rich and influential men, of whom White is alleged to have been the acknowledged leader. Tales of things unmentionable which have been whispered about the Tenderloin since the shooting on the top of Madison Square Garden have now the backing of sworn evidence.

The result of the investigation begun Thursday at the District Attorney's office into the peculiar practices which Stanford White and his friends were said to have followed is now known. Fully a dozen women and girls, some of them very young girls, have been brought to Mr. Nott and Mr. Garvan separately. They all told practically the same story.

These witnesses say White was the chief promoter and designer of gatherings where the maddest of rites and the strangest of excesses were performed to company by all present. They name as his accomplices at least eight men, all wealthy, all prominent and some of them famous. The list includes bankers, business men and professional men of supposed impeccable standing and morals. Many of them are middle-aged and all, with perhaps one or two exceptions, are married.

Former Judge Olcott, chief counsel for Thaw, also examined several of the chorus girls who are known to have been friendly with Stanford White. It is significant that they told him almost identically the same things which the other group of women have told Mr. Nott and Mr. Garvan. Comparisons have already been made of the statements of these two sets of witnesses, with the result that the lawyers for both the defense and the prosecution are satisfied of the truth of what they have heard. Inconceivable though parts of it seem.

At Judge Olcott's office it was stated that one of the men accused along with White had sailed for Europe since the shooting. Another man who is badly needed as a witness in the John Doe proceedings which Mr. Nott is conducting has also disappeared. He is said to have been the man who acted as go-between in leasing one of White's several scattered "studios." The existence of this particular studio has just been learned. It is in West Twenty-fourth street. The nominal lease was for a day or two ago, but now he cannot be found.

Evenly's Disclosures. It is said, will come through Evelyn Nesbit. Thaw, who will take the stand at the trial of her husband. She will be the principal witness for the defense. On the word of the only man who has heard the young wife tell her story, it will be the most astounding in its revelations and the most disastrous in its effects upon the reputation of men prominent in the community that has ever been heard inside the walls of a court house.

This statement was made by former Judge W. M. K. Olcott, to whom young Mrs. Thaw made confession of her relations with White yesterday afternoon. Judge Olcott said:

"Mrs. Thaw's evidence will make a most thrilling story—a story that is bound to have a tremendous effect upon the jury and upon public opinion in this community. It has astounded me."

Among hundreds of letters written to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw scores are from women who allege they have evidence against White and his associates. One of the most pathetic of these is signed "A Brooklyn Mother." It reads as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Thaw—The bullet that killed Stanford White avenged more wrongs than yours. Do not worry yourself into illness; your husband will be freed and will walk from the court."

CZAR CANNOT FIND MAN TO TAKE THE REINS

PARLIAMENT COMMITTEE WILL NOT ACCEPT UNRESPONSIB-
LE CABINET.

GLUM RESPONSIBILITY

Of Shouldering Cares of the Government in Present Condition—Ro-jestvensky Pleads Guilty at His Court Martial.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—No definite statement with reference to the retirement of the Goremynkin cabinet was forthcoming today. Emperor Nicholas apparently is encountering trouble in finding a man to whom to entrust the reins and in affecting an understanding with the liberal groups in parliament.

The constitutional democratic parliamentary committee met this morning behind closed doors to discuss the new situation. The Associated Press is informed that the committee adhered to the former decision that nothing less than a fully responsible cabinet will be acceptable and that the constitutional democrats will refuse participation in a mixed ministry.

Shon Responsibility. The leaders scarcely expect these terms to be accepted. Indeed, they have slight desire to consider the responsibility of government when the country apparently is on the verge of disorders. The present plan is to adopt towards any new ministry the same tactics that have been followed in the past acceptance of what is good and unsparing criticism where policies do not square with their ideas. The immediate passage of a vote of lack of confidence is probable.

ADMIRAL PLEADS GUILTY.

At His Court Martial for Surrendering to the Japs Last Year.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—Depositions of various officers and sailors of the torpedo boat destroyer Bodoy, presented at the court martial of Admiral Rojestvensky and other naval officials who surrendered in the battle of the Sea of Japan in May, 1905, were published today. The testimony indicates that the admiral's party boarded the Bodoy with the intention of surrendering to the first Japanese ship encountered.

GOVERNOR PARDONS

Ice Cream Dealers Convicted of Selling Their Wares on Sunday in Kentucky Town.

Frankfort, Ky., July 1.—Governor Beckham yesterday afternoon granted pardons to H. E. Lowman, W. H. Brown and J. W. Pinterger, of Louisville, who were fined by Magistrate Hoffman for keeping open on Sunday and selling ice cream to employees and stockholders in the Union Ice Cream Company.

Attorney Kennedy Helm brought the papers in the case to Frankfort on the four o'clock train, and the Governor wrote the following indorsement on the back of them: "A pardon is granted in these cases because the motive back of the prosecution is neither honest nor sincere, and the purpose of it is rather to defeat than to enforce the law."

The Governor's prompt action indicates that he intends to do all in his power to prevent Magistrate Hoffman from succeeding in his attempt to make the Sunday closing law for retailers odious by fining everybody that does anything on Sunday.

GOOD LIQUOR SPILLED.

In the Streets of Canyon City by Irate
Officials and Temperance People.

Canyon City, Colo., July 1.—City officials assisted by church members today raided the Canyon City hotel club, arrested the proprietor after a hard fight and spilled the liquor into the street. The raid was the climax of the anti-liquor fight begun over a year ago when the temperance element got control of the council. The tavern quit business but many alleged "clerk" started up.

TWENTY-THREE KILLED WHEN TRAINS CRASHED

OIL TANKS LET GO WITH GREAT FORCE.

TRAIN TURNED TURTLE

AND PASSENGERS WHO HAD JUST
LANDED FROM STEAMER
WERE HURLED TO DE-STRUCTION.

Portland, Oregon, July 1.—With a force so great that every window for three quarters of a mile was shattered, two tanks of the Union Oil company, of California, exploded last night at University park, a few miles north of here. Leonard Jagul, night watchman, is missing. The tanks are nearly empty. It is estimated that 6,000 barrels of oil were lost. The damage is about $15,000.

POSSE IN PURSUIT

OF DESPERATE VILLIAN WHO KILLED TO ESCAPE AR-REST.

Struck Down Springfield Police Sergeant and Shot Man Who Tried to Stop Him.

Springfield, Ill., July 1.—Benjamin Lederle was killed and Police Sergeant Fehr probably fatally injured by a man unknown to the authorities here today.

Fehr was felled by an iron bar when he tried to arrest a man who was attempting to pawn a bicycle, thought to be stolen. The man then took Fehr's revolver and killed Lederle who the latter tried to stop him.

He then stole a horse and buggy and drove out of town. Mayor Deveraux, a posse of hundreds and bloodhounds are in pursuit. At a late hour they had not captured the fugitive who is said to be hiding in timber on the South Fork of the river.

TWO BIG LUMBER FIRES.

Plants of Two Big Concerns Destroyed
—Loss Over $250,000.

Ashland, Wis., July 1.—The Edward Hines Lumber company's mill at Washburn burned this morning. The single mill, warehouses and about 100,000 feet of lumber were destroyed in a loss of $100,000.

MILLION FEET LUMBER BURNED.

Chicago, July 1.—The plant of the E. J. Noble Manufacturing company, cabinet makers, One Hundred and Twenty-first and Peoria streets, was destroyed by fire. One million feet of lumber was burned. Loss estimated at $150,000.

SHIP IS OVERDUE.

And All Efforts to Locate It Have Proven Fruitless—Thirty Italians Aboard.

Rome, July 1.—Inquiries by government officials and officers of the Fabre Steamship company relative to the steamer America, of the Fabre Line, now more than a week overdue at New York, have been fruitless. The America had thirty Italians on board.

The America left Marseilles June 2 and should have arrived at New York about June 23. The agents of the line say the steamer may have been delayed by damage to the machinery or have disabled vessel in tow.

RABBIS IN SESSION.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—The annual meeting of the central conference of American Rabbis opened here today. Rabbi Stolz of Chicago, presided.

PREPARE FOR DASH

To the Unknown North Pole—Supplies for Wellman's Record-Herald Expedition Landed.

Tromsø, Norway, July 1.—The Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald expedition ship arrived here today from Spitzbergen where she left Major Hersey and eleven officers commanding the first section of the expedition.

The supplies were safely landed at Dane Island, huge blocks of ice being used as rafts to convey the cargo ashore.

An immediate start will be made with the erection of an ash-shed and within a few hundred yards of the coast where S. A. Andre made his fatal ascent on June 15, 1894. Wellman will start for Spitzbergen July 4.

Americans On Way To London Meet Death in Collision

TRAIN TURNED TURTLE

AND PASSENGERS WHO HAD JUST
LANDED FROM STEAMER
WERE HURLED TO DE-STRUCTION.

London, July 1.—The American line special from Plymouth, carrying forty-seven passengers, who had debarked last night from the steamer New York, from New York, June 23, was wrecked at Salisbury, eighty-three miles from London, at 2 o'clock this morning. Twenty-three passengers were killed and seven were injured.

The Dead.

First cabin passengers:
BARWICK, WALTER, Toronto.
CASSIER, LOUIS, Trumbull, Conn.
COSSIT, FREDERICK, HENRY, New York.

EDPHICK, MRS. C. W., Chicago.
HARDING, DUDLEY P., New York.
HITCHCOCK, MRS. N. L., New York.

HOWESON, MISS MARY F., New York.
KING, REV. E. L., Toronto, Ont.
KOCH, FRANK W., Allentown, Pa.

MC DONALD, JOHN E., New York.
MEEMER, C. F., New York.
PIDON, C. A., Toronto, Ont.

SENTELL, MRS. E. W., New York.
SENTELL, MISS BLANCHE M., New York.
SENTELL, MISS GERTRUDE M., New York.

SENTELL, CHARLES E., New York.
SMITH, MRS. WALTER W., Dayton, Ohio.

SMITH, MISS ELEANOR, Dayton, Ohio.
SMITH, GERARD, Dayton, Ohio.
WAITE, MRS. LILLIAN HURD, New York.

Second cabin passengers, addresses unobtainable:
GROUTINGER, LOUIS.
KELLER, JULES.
THOMPSON, W. H.

The injured.
First cabin passengers injured: Allen, G. H. V., New York; Critchell, Robert S., Chicago; Griswold, Miss I. S., address unobtainable; Hitchcock, Miss M. New York; Koch, Mrs. Allentown, Pa.; Koch, Miss Anna E., Allentown, Pa.

Second cabin passengers injured: Rank, Mrs. M., address unobtainable.

Train Turned Turtle.

The train had passed Salisbury station at high speed. On a sharp curve beyond the locomotive jumped the track and plowing on the rail crashed into a westbound freight. The engine mounted the girders of the rail way bridge over the river Avon and turned turtle.

There were three passenger coaches in the train. The first shot past the locomotive, crashed into the railway bridge. The second and third cars toppled over and were completely destroyed.

Rescue parties were at work instantly but were of little purpose and the injured remained in the debris a long time.

The bodies extricated were laid in rows on the station platform awaiting identification.

All passengers in Salisbury were commended and devoted themselves to the wounded.

Rescue Was Difficult.

The body of the locomotive was found on the firebox, charred beyond recognition. It was necessary to saw away part of the compartments of the coaches in order to release the survivors and secure the bodies of the dead. In one compartment all of the passengers except two were killed and the rescue of the survivors was exceedingly difficult.

The injured later were removed to the Salisbury infirmary where the entire staff, assisted by the local volunteer surgeons attended them.

Mayor McClellan of New York, a passenger on the New York, intended to take this train, but decided to go on to Southampton and reached London this afternoon.

ILLINOISIAN'S STORY OF WRECK.

Jacksonville Man Tells of Miraculous Escape—Aided in the Rescue.

London, July 1.—Several survivors of the Salisbury wreck arrived here today. Among them was W. Bellat, of Jacksonville, Ill. Beyond the shock he is unharmed.

Mr. Bellat said he was 1 mile forward carrying having just finished a late supper. He heard a loud crash and felt a tremendous shock and the next moment found himself sprawling

HAIL STORM PLAYS HAVOC WITH CROPS.

MANY ARE ON HIS TRAIL

Eight States and Government Are
After the Distinguished Looking
Person Who Feels His
Trusting Brides.

Richmond, Va., July 1.—The police of at least eight states and the federal government are waiting eagerly for news of the present whereabouts of John C. Cavendish, the alleged bigamist, and his latest victim, Miss Josephine Hood, of Asheville, N. C.

The girl was married to Cavendish at the home of her brother at New Iberia, La., December 16. Pomp and circumstance surrounded the wedding, the bride being one of the prettiest young women of the old Tar Heel State and popular among her new friends of the far south. Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple started upon their honeymoon to Mexico, where Cavendish had told the girl he had immense plantations and untold riches. Nothing has been heard of Miss Hood since she kissed her brother good by and started upon what she undoubtedly believed would be the happiest journey of her life.

The relatives of Miss Hood believe that the girl was murdered by Cavendish and her body disposed of after he secured her jewels and what money she may have had in her possession. They are using every effort to secure information that will lead to her safe return home if she is alive or that will reveal beyond a doubt that she is dead. They are also anxious for the arrest of the man who so basely deceived her, that he may answer for his crimes in the courts of the country.

Reward by the Governor. The governor of North Carolina has offered a reward for the capture of Cavendish, and this reward has been supplemented by another by the governor of Virginia, it having developed that a Virginia girl was also a victim of this man with a multiplicity of wives. Rewards have also been offered by several other states whose young women have succumbed to his plausible speeches. But Cavendish has covered his tracks well. Not a single clue has been left upon which the detectives can go to work to run him down. This week the girl's mother asked the secretary of state at Washington to search for her through the foreign consuls.

The fact that Miss Hood had been made a victim was made known by a letter from one of his former wives to the girl's mother in Asheville. This woman inclosed a picture of her recent spouse, which picture has been recognized by many people who know Cavendish while he was paying his court to Miss Hood. This woman says that she also was taken on a honeymoon to Mexico, where her husband possessed riches. While on the way the man complained to her that he was short of funds and later put her in a stupor with laudanum, took her money and jewels, and left her to make her way back to the states the best she could. Since then pictures of the much-wanted man have been appearing in from many quarters. It has been learned that Cavendish is wanted at Fort Worth, Texas, South Bend, Ind., Hot Springs, Ark., East St. Louis, Ill., and Denver, Colo. Besides this state, North Carolina and Louisiana, in all of these places it is claimed he is wanted for the same crime—that of inducing young girls to marry him and then deserting them and robbing them while on the wedding trip.

Peace as a Lord. In this state Cavendish made a grandstand play. He posed as Lord (Reginald Douglas, the son of the Marquis of Queensberry), a peer of England, who had sought to escape out his own fortune in the new world, with the usual vague reference to extensive plantations across the line in the Mexican country. He also for his Virginia bride the beautiful Miss Elizabeth Hobbs, of Lancaster's Point. He deserted the girl, of course, and the papers were full of the story when she, heart broken and footsore, made her way back to her friends in the state of her nativity. Unwilling at first to be made a time to apprehend Cavendish, the Virginia man, she was the last escapee as related in that until he came into the life of the North Carolina girl.

Cavendish himself is not a hand some man. His features are rather commonplace, and he has an only set in one of his eyes. He is rather a cadaverous looking individual, affects a derby hat and dark clothes and carries his shoulders with the stoop of a student. But those who have known the man and talked with him say that he is a very different person from what he appears to be.

He confessed and offered no resistance. To one person the negro gave his name as Cliff Hay, Marshall, Texas, and told another it was Will Newbright, of San Antonio.

The negro was overtaken near Bradley last night. This morning at the Robertson home he was brought before the girl. "That's the one," said she at once and the negro replied, "Yes, lady, I'm the one, gentlemen I admit the crime." He was then taken to a tree of the bank of Walnut Creek and hanged and the body burned up.

on the ground. The front part of the car was completely smashed, and the coach fell on its side. The part in which he was ran past the engine and then turned over.

Mr. Bellat immediately started to assist the other passengers and remained at the scene until morning but was unable to do much for those buried in the wreckage until railway hands arrived, when the injured were quickly relieved.

Mr. Bellat's escape was miraculous. The greater part of the car in which he was, being broken into kindling.

Only a few of the passengers on the wrecked train came to London, most of those who escaped death being too badly injured to be moved or having relatives or friends among the injured who required their assistance.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN. London, July 1.—Mr. J. Ridgely Carter, secretary of the American Embassy, started on a special train at 11:30 o'clock this afternoon for Salisbury to aid the wounded and assist in identification of the dead.

The London and Southwestern Railway company issued a statement stating that the cause of the accident is unknown.

INVESTIGATION DEMANDED. London, July 1.—London morning newspapers today express deep sympathy with relatives of the victims of the Salisbury railway disaster especially deploring the fact that such calamity should overtake the visitors.

The newspapers demand the strictest investigation into the cause and report that it was due to speed competition.

At Either of the Kansas Citys and
Thousands on Both Sides of the River Were Thirsty.

Kansas City, Mo., July 1.—For the first time in their existence perhaps all the Indians in both Kansas Citys were thirsty today. On the Missouri side there was the usual Sunday closing for months past, by order of Governor Folk. On the Kansas side where the prohibition law has been openly violated for years, the closing was the result of Governor Hoek's campaign to stop the sale of liquor on every day in the week. Since the Sunday law was in the Missouri side, the thirsty thousands have come to the Kansas side, but not today.

CAUGHT IN FLAMES OF THIS GAY DECEIVER

WERE MANY YOUNG WOMEN IN DIFFERENT PARTS WHO WED-DED THE BOGUS "LORD."

MANY ARE ON HIS TRAIL

Eight States and Government Are
After the Distinguished Looking
Person Who Feels His
Trusting Brides.

Richmond, Va., July 1.—The police of at least eight states and the federal government are waiting eagerly for news of the present whereabouts of John C. Cavendish, the alleged bigamist, and his latest victim, Miss Josephine Hood, of Asheville, N. C.

The girl was married to Cavendish at the home of her brother at New Iberia, La., December 16. Pomp and circumstance surrounded the wedding, the bride being one of the prettiest young women of the old Tar Heel State and popular among her new friends of the far south. Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple started upon their honeymoon to Mexico, where Cavendish had told the girl he had immense plantations and untold riches. Nothing has been heard of Miss Hood since she kissed her brother good by and started upon what she undoubtedly believed would be the happiest journey of her life.

The relatives of Miss Hood believe that the girl was murdered by Cavendish and her body disposed of after he secured her jewels and what money she may have had in her possession. They are using every effort to secure information that will lead to her safe return home if she is alive or that will reveal beyond a doubt that she is dead. They are also anxious for the arrest of the man who so basely deceived her, that he may answer for his crimes in the courts of the country.

Reward by the Governor. The governor of North Carolina has offered a reward for the capture of Cavendish, and this reward has been supplemented by another by the governor of Virginia, it having developed that a Virginia girl was also a victim of this man with a multiplicity of wives. Rewards have also been offered by several other states whose young women have succumbed to his plausible speeches. But Cavendish has covered his tracks well. Not a single clue has been left upon which the detectives can go to work to run him down. This week the girl's mother asked the secretary of state at Washington to search for her through the foreign consuls.

The fact that Miss Hood had been made a victim was made known by a letter from one of his former wives to the girl's mother in Asheville. This woman inclosed a picture of her recent spouse, which picture has been recognized by many people who know Cavendish while he was paying his court to Miss Hood. This woman says that she also was taken on a honeymoon to Mexico, where her husband possessed riches. While on the way the man complained to her that he was short of funds and later put her in a stupor with laudanum, took her money and jewels, and left her to make her way back to the states the best she could. Since then pictures of the much-wanted man have been appearing in from many quarters. It has been learned that Cavendish is wanted at Fort Worth, Texas, South Bend, Ind., Hot Springs, Ark., East St. Louis, Ill., and Denver, Colo. Besides this state, North Carolina and Louisiana, in all of these places it is claimed he is wanted for the same crime—that of inducing young girls to marry him and then deserting them and robbing them while on the wedding trip.

Peace as a Lord. In this state Cavendish made a grandstand play. He posed as Lord (Reginald Douglas, the son of the Marquis of Queensberry), a peer of England, who had sought to escape out his own fortune in the new world, with the usual vague reference to extensive plantations across the line in the Mexican country. He also for his Virginia bride the beautiful Miss Elizabeth Hobbs, of Lancaster's Point. He deserted the girl, of course, and the papers were full of the story when she, heart broken and footsore, made her way back to her friends in the state of her nativity. Unwilling at first to be made a time to apprehend Cavendish, the Virginia man, she was the last escapee as related in that until he came into the life of the North Carolina girl.

Cavendish himself is not a hand some man. His features are rather commonplace, and he has an only set in one of his eyes. He is rather a cadaverous looking individual, affects a derby hat and dark clothes and carries his shoulders with the stoop of a student. But those who have known the man and talked with him say that he is a very different person from what he appears to be.

He confessed and offered no resistance. To one person the negro gave his name as Cliff Hay, Marshall, Texas, and told another it was Will Newbright, of San Antonio.

The negro was overtaken near Bradley last night. This morning at the Robertson home he was brought before the girl. "That's the one," said she at once and the negro replied, "Yes, lady, I'm the one, gentlemen I admit the crime." He was then taken to a tree of the bank of Walnut Creek and hanged and the body burned up.

on the ground. The front part of the car was completely smashed, and the coach fell on its side. The part in which he was ran past the engine and then turned over.

Mr. Bellat immediately started to assist the other passengers and remained at the scene until morning but was unable to do much for those buried in the wreckage until railway hands arrived, when the injured were quickly relieved.

Mr. Bellat's escape was miraculous. The greater part of the car in which he was, being broken into kindling.

Only a few of the passengers on the wrecked train came to London, most of those who escaped death being too badly injured to be moved or having relatives or friends among the injured who required their assistance.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN. London, July 1.—Mr. J. Ridgely Carter, secretary of the American Embassy, started on a special train at 11:30 o'clock this afternoon for Salisbury to aid the wounded and assist in identification of the dead.

The London and Southwestern Railway company issued a statement stating that the cause of the accident is unknown.

INVESTIGATION DEMANDED. London, July 1.—London morning newspapers today express deep sympathy with relatives of the victims of the Salisbury railway disaster especially deploring the fact that such calamity should overtake the visitors.

The newspapers demand the strictest investigation into the cause and report that it was due to speed competition.

At Either of the Kansas Citys and
Thousands on Both Sides of the River Were Thirsty.

Kansas City, Mo., July 1.—For the first time in their existence perhaps all the Indians in both Kansas Citys were thirsty today. On the Missouri side there was the usual Sunday closing for months past, by order of Governor Folk. On the Kansas side where the prohibition law has been openly violated for years, the closing was the result of Governor Hoek's campaign to stop the sale of liquor on every day in the week. Since the Sunday law was in the Missouri side, the thirsty thousands have come to the Kansas side, but not today.

UNSCRUPULOUS MILLIONAIRE IS WORST MAN

SAYS "UNCLE JOE" CANNON
TELLS "HOW TO BE HONEST THOUGH RICH."

MUST NOT BE SELFISH

Culture is of No Benefit Unless Backed By Effort in Its Acquisition —Outlines Duty of Young Men.

Washington, July 1.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the national house of representatives, gave a lecture to millionaires, telling how they may become honest citizens.

He scored the selfish rich who give no time to public duty, and urged all to work for the public good.

The speaker, just turned the allotted threescore and ten of the prophet, but still hale and hearty, puffed vigorously on a big cigar as he talked.

"If among a dozen young men, each of whom should decide to devote his life to the public service and should qualify, and work hard and conscientiously for it, one—just one—should get himself into public life and should sustain himself with credit to himself and benefit to the country, I should consider it a great return for the effort put forth," said he.

"The man who has to make his own way, who is without a competency to start with, and who enters public life these days before he has even enough to live independently of his income as a public man, has a hard time before him."

"The college man who receives his training without having to consider whereof he shall be subsisted is deprived of the benefit that comes under the primal law, 'In the sweat of thy face shall thou eat bread.'"

"The man who has to make his own way, who is without a competency to start with, and who enters public life these days before he has even enough to live independently of his income as a public man, has a hard time before him."

"The college man who receives his training without having to consider whereof he shall be subsisted is deprived of the benefit that comes under the primal law, 'In the sweat of thy face shall thou eat bread.'"

Effort as Well as Culture. "There are men of culture and inherited wealth who accomplish great things, but they are exceptions, and when they are entrusted with power are useful and safe in the exercise of it only in so far as they receive education in practical conduct of practical affairs."

"More culture is of no benefit unless you have been strengthened by severe efforts in its acquisition. There is no way to learn how to make proper use of power except by studying in the great library of actual life and by close contact with the mass of humanity engaged in the struggle for subsistence and advancement."

"But all young men of ability, whether favored by fortune or not, owe it both to themselves and to the nation to give attention to public affairs, to keep themselves in touch with things, to be in constant preparation for public life. If the opportunity or necessity comes to them."

Duty of Young Men. "The human animal accomplishes only as he works under the pressure of necessity. The extensive development of the United States in the last half century has kept the people so busy in various industries, specialties and enterprises, in order to do their part in this development that many of them have neglected their duties as citizens, or perhaps I should say as co-citizens in the development of the great empire that has been built up by their efforts, in which all men are equal at